

TEXADA OFFICIAL COMMUNITY PLAN

Vol. 18

Wrapping Up Phase 2

Phase 2 of the Official Community Planning process is now nearing completion. Phase 2 has been the “listening phase” with community engagement activities to explore and discover the kind of future your community wants.

Over 300 people participated in Phase 2 through the community workshop (48), the community survey (206), the stakeholder survey (44), and the pop-up sessions with students (20+). These events were all designed to give community members an opportunity to express their goals, objectives, values, and vision for the future of Texada Island.

Including community members in the planning process has opened up dialogue with diverse voices and created space for hearing about the distinct values of residents and stakeholders. The final task of Phase 2 is to summarize results from the community engagement process into a Community Engagement Report. This report will help guide the development of a renewed vision and updated Official Community Plan in Phase 3.
